Leader in Public Education &
Research Professor at Boston College

Dennis Shirley

Global Leader in Educational Reform,
Author & Research Professor at Boston
College

MODERATED BY: DR. KARI SASSU, DIRECTOR
CENTER OF EXCELLENCE FOR TEACHING & LEARNING AND DR.
CHRISTOPHER TROMBLY, INTERIM DEAN, COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

In this engaging presentation, Shirley and Hargreaves will explore how identity formation impacts students' educational experiences and sense of belonging in school communities. They will analyze how factors such as race, culture, gender, and socioeconomic background shape students' self-perceptions and relationships with peers and teachers. Drawing from their research and insights from The Age of Identity, they will emphasize the need for schools to create inclusive environments that celebrate diversity. Attendees will gain practical strategies to support identity development and foster inclusive learning spaces that enhance student engagement and well-being.
